A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Dorothy Evers of Chicago Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Kampe. Co-hostess was Mrs. Herb Niefeldt. Games were played and duplicate prizes awarded. Miss Evers will become the bride of Mr. Norman Kampe of Matteson November 4.

The birthday circle of friends who have been meeting for many years, were entertained recently at the home of Mrs. Florence Anderson where a delicious luncheon was served in honor of Mrs. Trudie Swisher. The table was beautifully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and many fall garden flowers. Fred Erickson presided at the piano and the group sang many of their favorite songs. The birthday cake, which was made by Marion Swisher, was attractively decorated. A delightful afternoon was enjoyed by the guests.

The Men's Club of the Tinley Park Methodist church met Thursday evening, October 26, in the church basement for an enjoyable time of fellowship and recreation. Two 16 mm. movies were shown. There were four "first-nighters" present who were introduced by the president, Steve Chilton, as new members. In the absence of Henry Bettenhausen, refreshment chairman, this job was taken over for the evening by Noble Ginter and the Kitchen Police detail was manned by volunteers from the group. Because the regular meeting night in November falls Thanksgiving Day, it was voted to hold that meeting on the fifth Thursday which is November 30.

Oak Lawn Man Candidate for State Democratic Senator

Max Larsonneur, for 20 years a resident of Oak Lawn, and active in civic and American Legion activities during most of that time, is the Democratic candidate for state senator in the 7th Senatorial District.

During the depression Larsonneur was active in procuring recreational activities from the government for local youth. In 1937 he was one of the organizers of the Oak Lawn Home Owners Assn. and served as president for the first two years. This group, among other activities, enlisted the help of nine neighboring towns in a mass movement for better bus transportation. Served in 1939 as chairman of the Oak Lawn Planning and Zoning Board and Board of Appeals.

During World War II Larsonneur served as Acting Coordinator of Oak Lawn Civilian Defense.

Charter member of Green Oak Post 57 of the American Legion he served his Post in all offices, including commander and 8th District GAR Memorial Day activities chairman.

Larsonneur is an art director and designer, formerly with LaSalle Extension University as art director on production of business, technical and educational publication for 19 years.

Started free lance in 1948 and has specialized in general advertising problems, educational, technical and figure illustrations, portrait commissions, industrial designing etc.

Prior to his enlistment in the Tank Corps in World War I, Larsonneur worked as an automobile motor mechanic.

With his wife and two sons, Lionel, 16, a senior at Blue Island High School, and Louis, 18, a sophomore at the Illinois Institute of Technology, he resides at 9616 Brandt Avenue, Oak Lawn, Ill.

Big Chicago Stock Show Opens Second Half Century

When the International Live Stock Exposition gets underway in the Chicago Stock Yards November 25 for an eight-day run through December 2, it will be the start of a second half century for the country's biggest pageant of agriculture.

The 51st International, with prize money boosted beyond the usual $100,000 total, should out-size past shows of the more than 50 years in which it has become ever larger and more impressive as one of the country's greatest institutions.

Total prizes for all cattle in the show will be $61,370, the largest amount ever offered at the International, according to William E. Ogilvie, manager of the Exposition. Many increases made in other breeds to mark the 50th anniversary last year are retained this year.

Full Program of Interest

A full program is planned to furnish eight days filled with interest to the farm people of the continent. In addition, hundreds of allied activities in Chicago will convert the city into the Mecca of agriculture.

The Junior Livestock Feeding contest for farm boys and girls showing livestock of their own raising will dominate the first day's program in the Amphitheatre. Cattle and sheep cariot classes will be held in the yards. The 28th International Grain and Hay Show and the Wool Show on the third floor will be continuous through the eight days.

The International Horse show will have daily evening performances and matinees on Sunday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and the final Saturday. J. W. Austin, ticket cashier, urges out of town visitors to order now to be assured of good seats.

Kansas Selects Champion

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will have the bulk of livestock classes, including all open steer classes. Dr. A. D. Weber, of Kansas State College, Manhattan, will select the grand champion steer on Tuesday afternoon.

Thursday, beginning with the auction of the grand champion steer will begin three spectacular days of show auctions in which the country's top meat animals will be brought to supply prime meat for the Christmas trade. Thursday will be draft horse day in the Amphitheatre. Many other contests are scheduled for the rest of the week.

Here's what your fellow voters say about the

and why they intend to vote for them Tuesday, November 7

WILLIAM G. STRATTON
for State Treasurer

From his long personal acquaintance, Dr. John E. Wallace, 909 North Raynor avenue, is convinced of Stratton's integrity. "I'm certainly going to vote for Bill Stratton, and I'm telling all my friends that I hope they do likewise. I've known Bill for sixteen years and I consider him capable and trustworthy. He is a good family man. I'm sure that he will carry out the duties of treasurer with credit to himself and to the Republican party."

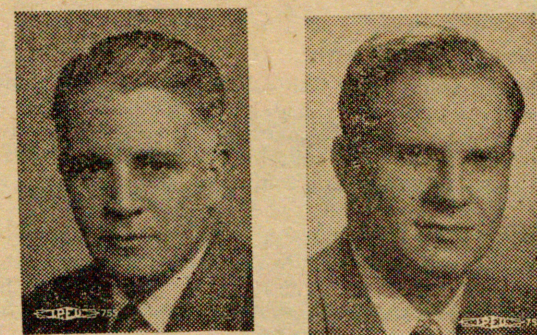

EVERETT MCKINLEY DIRKSEN
for United States Senator

A Joliet laundryman, Costas Athan, proudly recommends this friend to every voter. "I have counted Everett Dirksen as a friend ever since he attended the baptism of my son, Harry Everett Athan, now a student at the University of Wyoming. That was back in 1932. Over the years, I have met and talked to Everett a good many times and I have been impressed not only by his integrity but also by his increasing grasp of the basic issues before the country. I feel confident that he understands our problems, and that he is aware of the dangers we face. He is the kind of man I would trust in any situation. I sincerely hope he is elected, and I'm sure that if the Illinois voters return him to Washington he will continue the outstanding record he made in the House of Representatives by serving still more brilliantly as a member of the United States Senate."

Columnist Ray Tucker said about Dirksen while he was a member of the House: "From close contact with those who cover Washington, it would be Dirksen of Illinois and Wadsworth of New York as the ablest men in Congress on the Republican side."

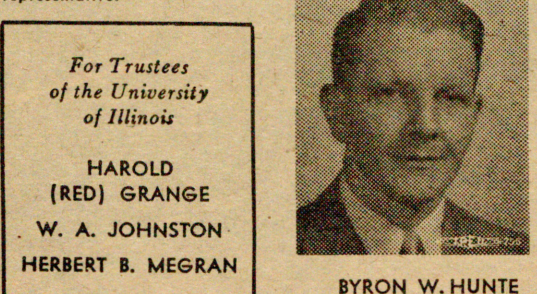

Colliers Magazine said: "Dirksen is one of fourteen members of the House considered for the Colliers Distinguished Service Award."

Time Magazine regarded him as "Among the best Republican brains in the House."

WARREN L. WOOD
for Representative in the General Assembly

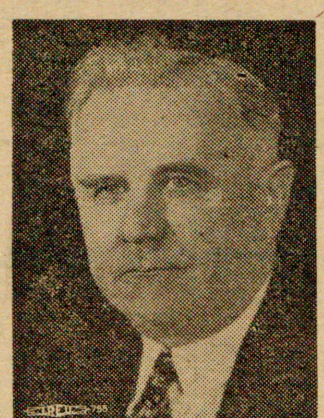

A friendly endorsement from Earl Van Dyke, the man next door, happened to live next door to Warren L. Wood and from our frequent shirt-sleeve conferences in my garage (he borrows my tools AND returns them) as well as from close observation of his ways I have taken his measure and am proud to call him "neighbor." In Warren Wood there is no pretense. He seeks rather than avoids responsibility; strives to be sound the hard way rather than popular along lines of least resistance; is rare by being more concerned with rendering service than reaping reward. I have seen him act at being a citizen, a father, a sea-going Naval officer who volunteered, a public official, and a man-each with outstanding success. I unreservedly recommend my next-door neighbor as your representative."

For Trustees of the University of Illinois
HAROLD (RED) GRANGE
W. A. JOHNSTON
HERBERT B. MEGHAN

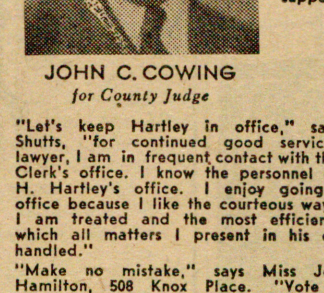

BYRON W. HUNTE
for County Treasurer

NOAH M. MASON
for Representative in Congress

From his vantage point in the courtroom Paul Ohman has this to say: "During my ten years as probate officer I have worked with many judges in this and other counties and can honestly say that Judge Cowing is willing to spend more time and intelligent thought on an individual case than any other judge with whom I have had occasion to work. He is on the job every day ready to give time and attention to any and all cases brought before him. His thoughtful and sympathetic attention to mental cases is to be especially commended. A man of this caliber is hard to find. In my opinion Judge Cowing should receive the hearty support of every Will County voter."

JOHN C. COWING
for County Judge

"Let's keep Hartley in office," says Irving Shuts, "for continued good service. As a lawyer, I am in frequent contact with the County Clerk's office. I know the personnel of Joseph H. Hartley's office. I enjoy going into his office because I like the courteous way in which I am treated and the most efficient way in which all matters I present in his office are handled."

"Make no mistake," says Miss Jennie M. Hamilton, 508 Knox Place. "Vote for Mr. Hartley for county clerk. He possesses experience and integrity. You will then be assured that the records of the county clerk's office will continue to be kept in an efficient manner."

"I've known him all my life," says Herman H. Ehlers, cashier of the bank where Byron Hunte works. "Having him with me in our bank, both as a director and as assistant cashier, has only strengthened my regard for him. He is an honest and able administrator. When he came back from the Army, a captain, he took his place in civic and community affairs again just like he had done before. He's been active in almost every organization, from the fire department to the church choir. We all think a lot of him and his wife and little girl, Pamela Ann, and for County Treasurer, we in Beecher are all for him."

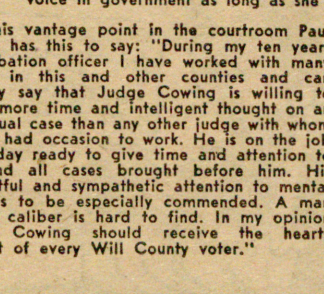

VERNON L. NICKELL
for Superintendent of Public Instruction

Former Joliet Township High School Teacher Frank O'Neill says: "As one who is directly concerned with public education, I have had a good opportunity to observe Vernon Nickell's work. I count him one of the ablest and most conscientious men now holding public office in Illinois, and I feel that he has directly influenced many improvements in the educational system of the state. We ought to retain good men in office whenever we can, and Mr. Nickell is certainly one who deserves to be retained."

A recent Speaker of the House, Joseph W. Martin, Jr., takes time to write a word of commendation: "It has been a pleasure to serve with Noah Mason and to share his worthy aims in keeping America free, strong and—American. He has rendered fine service to his district and to his country in a trying and difficult period. He has had to face situations where he was forced to oppose proposals backed by aggressive minority pressure groups but which would in the long run have been against the interests of all the people, yet he has had the courage and patriotism to put country first. The days ahead will determine the future of America and the world and we need strong men, fearless men like your candidate, who will be guided only by the welfare of all. I personally hope he has an overwhelming victory, in November. It will be a boost for a sound and better America."

"I'm going to vote for Mrs. O'Neill (this must be about the twentieth time now) because she's just about everything I expect to have in governmental representation," says Mrs. E. C. Bassett, 109 Richards street. "I find her the easiest person in the world to talk to. Quiet, unassuming, like a member of your own family, yet quick to see your point of view when you've got a matter to present to her. I guess I like her, too, because she's a fellow homemaker. A good homemaker makes sure she gets what she pays for these days and knows something about AND WHAT HAPPENS IF YOU DON'T STAY WITHIN IT! I've met and talked with Mrs. O'Neill many times and my respect for her has grown with the years. I feel absolutely confident she'll make as good a senator as she has been a representative and I'll always feel I have a voice in government as long as she remains in Springfield."

FRED R. ADAMS
for Probate Judge

Ace Bowler Art Hoffman puts in a word for Neb: "I have known Neb Workman for many years. I've been bowling for a long time and Neb's been secretary of the bowling association for a long time and everybody knows he's done a good job. Neb isn't afraid of work and he likes to do it well. But I really don't think he goes out for these public offices of town clerk and probate clerk just because he wants a job (he's got a good job as a clerk at the 'J' offices any time he wants it). He just does it because he knows it takes a clerk to do a clerk's job and he wants to serve his community. I'd say we're lucky to get him!"

JOSEPH H. HARTLEY
for County Clerk

In the interest of law enforcement William A. Murphy speaks out for Ernest Overbey: "During my years of practicing law in this community I have observed with favor the efforts of Ernest Overbey to keep this city a clean city for clean-living people. He has demonstrated that he is able and courageous, and I believe that his thirty-five years of experience in law enforcement and his service in the United States Army clearly qualify him to take on this larger responsibility of sheriff for this county. Will County needs a complete cleanup on law enforcement and Overbey is the man who can do the job."

"Bottino gets my vote," says George P. Lloyd, "because of his contribution to this community. I have known Lou Bottino from the days when he taught in Braidwood and coached the basketball team to the finals of the State tournament. I have watched his rise to leadership in Joliet civic affairs and knowing his fine educational background County is fortunate in having him as its superintendent of schools. I'm sure the people of Will County will vote for him in the coming election and keep him on the job!"

Illinois needs at least 40 million tons of limestone, 8 million tons of rock phosphate, and 1.7 million tons of potash, based on 1947 soil tests supervised by University of Illinois agronomists.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has been putting out official crop reports ever since Civil War days.

A USDA official says the present beef breeding herd is the largest on record.

Re-elect Erickson on His Record
An Editorial
In the name of good efficient Cook county government, the voters of all the Cook County suburban towns have a clear duty and responsibility to re-elect William N. Erickson as president of the board of commissioners.
His opponent has the solid support of the powerful Chicago democratic machine, which will stop at nothing to tally every possible vote for its candidate.
If the machine is to be beaten, it is up to the country towns to do it. It can be done. It was done four years ago when a republican landslide put Mr. Erickson in as president of the board. An Erickson landslide in the country towns large enough to offset the machine vote in Chicago will be required to turn the trick now.
He is entitled to such a landslide on his record as county board president—to say nothing of his twelve years' service on the board as country towns representative. His administration as president has kept the county on a solvent basis in each of his four years, with a surplus each year. That in itself is an amazing accomplishment in the history of Cook county.
This economy was achieved without cutting corners or pinching pennies. As soon as Mr. Erickson became president, he began reforming the county's rundown institutions and putting them on a businesslike basis, so that they could carry out their purposes fully but without waste.
The County hospital is an outstanding example. Formerly it was a constant problem and often a scandal because of mismanagement. One of his first acts as president was to name an able, honest business executive as superintendent with instructions to rehabilitate the hospital and bring its service, personnel and physical equipment up to high standards. The result is that today the hospital is a model among institutions of its kind and a credit to Cook county.
Similar has been the experience at the county's Oak Forest institutions. Mr. Erickson brought in an administrator for these institutions from St. Louis because of his fame in this field. As a result these institutions, like the hospital, are now performing their humanitarian functions fully and efficiently.
Under Mr. Erickson's administration, more than 5,000 of the county's sick, destitute and other unfortunates are now well cared for and receiving skilled and adequate medical attention. As part of this rehabilitation program, Mr. Erickson has successfully directed large-scale building operations, now completed or nearing completion, to provide dormitories for nurses and interns at the county hospital and at Oak Forest.
The county's many other institutions and programs have likewise benefited by Mr. Erickson's business methods and his zeal for giving full value for the taxpayer's dollar. Notable among these are the county's 38,000 acres of forest preserve—the largest urban-area park in the world—and the county's current $7,000,000 road building program. This program, to be paid for by gas tax revenue, thus avoiding added taxes, will provide new connecting roads and express highways.
Keeping the county in step with changing times, Mr. Erickson has sponsored and heads the county's traffic safety commission and is now instituting a county-wide civil defense program in coordination with the other defense programs in the area.
Among the most noteworthy of Mr. Erickson's achievements is his success in keeping the county's large purchasing transactions, for supplies, land and building material free from the taint of suspicion. He has insisted on surrounding these purchases with strict safeguards against dishonesty and inflated prices. His record in this regard stands out against the uncertainty, suspicion and accusations that cloud many public expenditures in the Chicago area.
Four years of solid achievement say that the only deal Mr. Erickson is interested in is a square deal for the public.

This efficiency in administration, this safeguarding of expenditures can be continued for certain only by continuing Mr. Erickson as president of the board and business administrator of the county. His defeat would be a victory for the city democratic machine, concerning which the public has had some shocking revelations lately, and Mr. Erickson's elimination would be the signal for the machine to move in.
Since Mr. Erickson must run for president not only in the country towns, but also in the city of Chicago, he can be sure of reelection only if he has the solid, overwhelming support of the country towns.
George Miller
Proponent of Forest Preserves
George A. Miller who seeks re-election to the board of County Commissioners has compiled an enviable record in public office.
Commissioner Miller has served almost without a break since his election to the board for the first time in 1914, compiling a long record of distinguished service. Outstanding among his accomplishments is the establishment of the Forest Preserve, which has earned for him the title of "Father of the Forest Preserve system."
The commissioner, who resides at 518 Gunderson avenue, Oak Park, previously served two terms in the Illinois legislature and from 1926 to 1930 was an assistant state's attorney for Cook county.
An energetic champion of universal suffrage, Mr. Miller was a proponent of the bill giving voting rights to women in Illinois. In addition to his distinguished career in public life, Commissioner Miller has served on many boards in Oak Park and has practiced law since 1898.
Seeking office on the same ticket with Miller are William N. Erickson, who is also a candidate for president of the Cook county Board of Commissioners, and William Busse, George F. Nixon and John Mackler.

Announcement By THE THEODORE ROOSEVELT "BULL MOOSE" PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS

This REPUBLICAN organization, founded in 1912 by Pres. Theodore Roosevelt, urges all Republicans and Independents to vote for candidates who will serve all of the people and to reject political opportunists.

The SHERIFF is our County's chief law enforcing officer. Our present Sheriff—a Republican lawyer—has given us four years of County Jail scandals and non-enforcement of gambling and vice laws. The people don't want another lawyer in that office. Nor do the people want a lawyer who was selected by the warring factions of the Republican party as a "compromise candidate." We need an experienced police officer for Sheriff.

After a thorough investigation of the records of both candidates—their public and private and family lives—and in view of the strong recommendations of every living State's Attorney, including Thomas J. Courtney and Robert E. Crowe, a Republican, we urge the election of

Questions Asked by Sen. Geo. W. Malone

United States Senator George W. Malone, R. of Nevada, has demanded an explanation from the administration of "why we will lack arms of every classification and why we are short in all elements of military strength, after the unprecedented spending of over 48 billion dollars on the military establishment during the past four years." The demand was made in a statement issued by the Nevada Senator.

"The American taxpayers, already bled by a spendthrift administration, have a right to know where his money has gone. They say that half of it has gone for salaries, is no explanation. Salaries for doing what? Certainly not to improve our military strength. The outbreak of the Korean war exposed our pitiful unpreparedness.

"The breakdown into major categories of expenditures—all before Korea—shows over 2 billion dollars spent for commercial travel. Travel for what? Certainly not to improve our military strength.

"Of the 48 billion, about 10 billion is listed as having been spent for equipment. What kind of equipment? The kind our American boys were landed when they were sent into battle the Korean Reds?

"Not one dollar of the 48 billion spent went for atomic bombs or for anything connected with atomic energy warfare. That was extra. And not one dollar of the amount went for military aid to other countries. These items were also extra.

"Where did the money go? Was it wasted? Was it spent unwisely?

"The lack of weapons capable of blasting the Soviet type tanks of the North Koreans in the beginning, and the absence of tanks as good as these make Americans wonder where our money went.

"Many Americans would like to know why such low proportion went to provide weapons, why we were caught with obsolete planes? We would like to know also, in view of the high percentage spent to keep military personnel on hand, why we ran into a shortage of troops trained for combat? To say that the personnel was elsewhere in the world is not the answer, for, if that were true, why then the draft calls to make up the deficiency?

Arthur Heun's Famed Collection To Be Seen At Christmas Show

One of the most unusual and beautiful features of the Christmas Show to be presented by the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc. in the Palmer House, Chicago, will be the first public showing of the famous Arthur Heun Christmas collection. The collection is now the property of Mrs. Lawrence P. McClure of Highland Park, Ill., who has graciously consented to display it at this Christmas Show.

The Christmas Tree is a symbol of the beautiful spirit of the gay holiday season and will be seen through the show. However, this collection exhibited by Mrs. McClure, adds a breathtaking glow of spiritual loveliness.

Mr. Arthur Heun was for years one of Chicago's leading architects.

He helped, as a charter member and as an artist, to make the Casino and the Arts club, two of the most unusual and beautiful private clubs in America, indeed in the world. He was a yearly traveler in Europe in the days when civilians travelled for pleasure and he made a collection over the years of beautiful Gothic, Renaissance, and Baroque angels and figurines, especially from the small towns of that part of Italy which used to be Austria, where such exquisite wood carvings have been made for centuries. Nothing in the collection was made later than the 18th century. Many items date back to the 16th century. All have the quaintness and the charm of devout craftsmanship.

With these beautiful museum pieces Mr. Heun, and now Mrs. McClure, have decorated their Christmas tree, and given it an architectural setting in a miniature courtyard which takes up a space 30'x10'. The picture is given a spiritual meaning by using it as a background for two converging groups of shepherds with their flocks and of the three wise men with their procession of horses, camels, and elephants bringing gifts to the Christ Child, which is the central figure of the lovely panorama.

Hung from the ceiling by wires, which are invisible in the soft incandescent glow which surrounds the scene, and giving a breath-taking illusion of actually floating on their golden wings, are the carved wooden angels which hovered over a crèche in some tiny church in the Tyrol some 500 years ago.

So beautifully and reverently has this tableau been executed that when one looks at it one feels irresistibly the spirit of that first Christmas and that despite today's blackness, beauty and grace and peace and God's love, have been and will be, eternal.

The Christmas Show will be open to the public for three days, November 26th through 28th, from 10:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from any Garden Club member or at the headquarters of the Garden Club of Illinois in the Palmer House, Shop 312.

Progress in Illinois Education Noted

Vernon L. Nickell, sup't. of public instruction, revealed that new honors had come to Illinois for its progress in community education especially on the rural level. The program committee of the Great Lakes conference on Rural Life and Education has invited Nickell, his staff and school board members, patrons and students of a reorganized school district to attend the conference and appear on the program to explain educational and community progress in action. The meeting of the Conference will be held at Indiana University April 9, 10 and 11 next year.

Nickell said, "This is a distinct recognition of the fact that significant things are happening in education in Illinois at the present time and Illinois is looked upon as a leader in this field."

Farmer-Committee Elections Announced

During the period November 13 through November 24, 1950, a farmers-committee elections will be held in approximately 1,500 farm communities in Illinois. Lee M. Gentry, chairman of the State PMA Committee, announced today.

The committeemen elected will help to administer 1951 Production and Marketing Administration programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, including the Agricultural Conservation Program, price supports, acreage allotments, marketing quotas and the sugar program.

In each community farmers participating in any of the indicated programs will elect three regular and two alternate community committeemen and will also elect delegates to the county convention on November 28, 1950. The delegates from the various communities will elect the county committee for 1951. A change in regulations now permits a delegate to the county convention to be elected a member of the county committee.

Exact dates and places for holding the election will be announced by each county PMA committee. "It is important," said the State Chairman, "that all farmers keep this election in mind and then actually get out and vote when the time comes."

"Only by the participation of farmers, are these elections really democratic. The more farmers who come out to vote, the more representative will be the committeemen who are elected and the more effective they will be in carrying out their responsibilities."

Mr. Gentry defines an eligible voter as any owner, operator, tenant, or share cropper on a farm which is in any program administered by the county PMA committee.

Slow-simmering stews and soups can be the mainstay of a meal ... and save on fuel at the same time. There's no guessing about simmer heat on a modern GAS range. You just click the control to "simmer" and forget it, knowing the soup will be just barely bubbling until you turn it off. LINCOLN ESTATES

The annual Hallowe'en party for the children of Lincoln Estates was held at the Ann Rutledge school last Monday evening, and the committee reported there was an exceptionally large crowd attending. Close to two hundred children and many of the parents came and had a grand time. The affair started with a ghost walk on the school grounds. Judging of the costumes followed with prizes for all age groups. Game stations were set up both in and out of the school and washing up the runway from the beach on the road and it was all full of sea weed and debris—big logs etc. Trees were falling all around and when we got off the island, we had to detour around a number of blocks on account of fallen trees across the road. They delivered us to an apartment that Mary's girl friend owns and we stayed there that night.

"The next morning the sun was shining—a perfect day. We came back to the beach to look over the damage in our own car. We found the back porch, where I'm sitting now, with a section caved in, and the porch roof covered with sea weed. It's about 15 feet above the beach—all the screens were gone from the porch and the floor was covered about 6 inches deep with sea weed. The steps were washed away and we never found them. The roof was off from a good part of the building.

"But people of Florida get busy and clean up the mess. By today one would have to look close to see anything different than it was before the storm. Since we have had beautiful weather and right now Billy is petting me to go swimming. Both he and I have a real sunburn which we got yesterday while gathering coconuts—the little shell fish that look like miniature clams. They are about half an inch long, and they make the most delicious broth one can taste.

"But there's something going on all the time here. For instance last night about seven o'clock a shrimp boat kept coming closer and closer to shore until it was in the breakwaters. Then a man jumped off the boat and started swimming to shore right smack in front of our place. We saw that the boat was in distress so we called the coast guard. The man finally came wading in carrying one of those army type gas containers. He told me they were out of gas and couldn't hold the boat away from shore. I asked him if he was going to try to get back to the ship with the can full. He said he was going to try it but when he did he found he could not swim and carry all that weight. The coast guard came about that time with their 'duck' which is a land-sea going vehicle with six wheels and a propeller. They drove down the ramp and right into the ocean, delivered the gas to the boat and came out again. Then the boat went on its way.

"People down here would have a hard time getting along without the United States Coast Guard. All members are very courteous and are right on the job in case anything goes wrong.

"Tomorrow we are planning on going to Miami for a few days and I guess we'll make it this time. We

Civic Leaders Praise Clark; Urge Re-election as Assessor

JOHN S. CLARK

County Assessor John S. Clark, the man who modernized assessment methods here, has long been regarded as an example of good government in action.

As the county's first elected one-man assessor, Clark has always worked for equality in assessments.

Under his direction, real estate and personal property evaluations were brought up-to-date. He abolished the assessments of ordinary household furnishings, long an unfair burden on the average taxpayer.

He devised standard evaluations for land and buildings, thus doing away with the old assessment methods which had been laid down under the horse-and-buggy principles of a state constitution which dates back to 1818.

Equity in Assessments

James A. Cunningham, vice president of Chicago University, and chairman of the Non-Partisan Citizens' Committee to re-elect Clark, says: "Mr. Clark deserves the support of Democrats and Republicans alike. His record stands as an effective and efficient performance of public office. He is recognized as a leader in modern, scientific methods of property assessing."

Supporting Clark's re-election are many professional and business leaders in Chicago and Cook county, Cunningham states.

"Mr. Clark's good government," Cunningham relates, "has resulted in his endorsement by such outstanding civic leaders as Simeon E. Leland of Northwestern University, Walter J. Cummings of the Continental Illinois National Bank, Arthur R. Kaiser of Sears, Roebuck and several others.

"These men have praised Clark for his steadfast principle of equity in assessments for all," he declares. Cunningham also points out that today, since the elimination of unnecessary personal property assessments, tax collections have increased $10,000,000 on personal property.

Before Clark became the county's first elected one-man assessor, property valuations were determined by a Board of Assessors. Because the individual members of the Board could operate singly, and because each assumed a cerwould have gone a week ago Sunday if it hadn't have been for this Northeast, and if we had, we would have been right in the middle of a hurricane. While we are there I'm going to go to Homestead and look up the Rene Guindon's."

WE LIKE OUR WEATHER MAN!

No one is complaining about the grand weather people in this section are enjoying. The record high for October was 79 in 1944 and Monday the temperature soared to 87 which is an all time high.

Seems like we are having our summer now. No one has complained about our lovely summer either, for all told there were but five days high in the 80's and lower 90's, and they were not consecutive.

We still insist that we will take our cold winters in preference to Florida's hurricanes.

PAID BY ORLAND BUSINESSMAN

John J. Duffy today charged the County Highway department, under the direction of the Republican President of the County Board with the total responsibility for the destruction of millions of dollars in property values caused by the disastrous floods in the south and southwest area of Cook county.

The damaging floods of 1947, he said, were occasioned largely as the result of poor engineering, poor planning, and the failure of the County to use highway funds to correct drainage facilities. The construction of a highway network often interferes with natural drainage and when it does, it is the responsibility of the county to correct the drainage problem it creates.

There is plenty of authority in existing statutes on which the county could act. He added, "authority can be found in Chapter 121 of Smith & Hurd Illinois Annotated Statutes." The law is plain, it provides as follows:

"The highway commissioners of the towns and road districts are hereby authorized to enter upon any land adjacent to any highway in their respective towns or districts for the purpose of opening any ditch, whenever it shall be necessary to open a water course to or from any highway to or from the natural water course; and to dig, open and clean ditches upon such land for the purpose of carrying off the water from said highways; or to drain any slough or pond on said

N. L. Couple to Marry On Thanksgiving

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Hoeffler, of New Lenox, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Rachel, to William H. Bruns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Bruns of New Lenox.

The wedding ceremony will be in the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, in New Lenox Thanksgiving evening at 7 o'clock. All relatives and friends are invited to the ceremony and to the reception to be held in the Terrace room of the Woodruff hotel, Joliet, from 9 until 11 o'clock following the ceremony.

The couple both graduated from Joliet Township high school. Miss Hoeffler is employed in the office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, in Joliet, and Mr. Bruns, who served two years in the navy, is in the business operated by his father in New Lenox.

"Cook County is too large, the southwest area of the County is too important to the future development of Metropolitan Cook County to permit poor County planning to have an adverse effect on its orderly development."

On November 7 general elections will be held. We should all remember voting is the individual's assurance of freedom. There is no ruling class in America.
